

People on the Move:

Refugees, Immigration and Shifting Populations

Active Citizen 360 Issues Conference

Saturday, Feb. 25, 2012

9:00 am – 2:30 pm

Alberici Corporation, 8800 Page Ave., 63114

What it's about: All over the world, people are on the move. Some have made the decision to relocate to new countries for better work or educational opportunities. Some have been forced out of their homes because of war or famine. Others are moving from rural to urban areas, as their traditional home environments are wiped out by industrialization or deforestation. Still more are climate refugees. Some countries welcome new residents, but others have enacted laws that make it harder to get in—and easier to deport those who immigrate illegally.

Here's what you'll do at this one-day conference:

- Explore the facts that are driving population shifts
- Share your ideas on why it's happening and what it means
- Work with others to develop international policies to address these issues

The conference is FREE and open to all high-school students.

Prep sessions: To get ready for the conference, Active Citizen 360 will offer two prep sessions [February 4 & February 18], where knowledgeable, engaging presenters will introduce the issues and facts.
